O. D. K. WILL HAVE UNIQUE PLEDGING

New Plan Will Be Inaugurated
Thursday During Spring
Pledging Exercises of Fraternity

Officers of Nu Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary campus leadership fraternity, announced to The Kernel yesterday that a unique plan of pledging will be inaugurated Thursday during the fraternity's spring exercises. Details have not been revealed, but it is understood that O. D. K. will pledge at some point on the campus and not at the Junior Prom as planned.

Another innovation of O. D. K. will be the presentation of a silver trophy to the boy entered in the annual state high school basketball tournament, March 19-21, who displays the highest qualities of leadership during the meet. This year's award will mark the inception of an annual event.

Pledging ceremonies of the fraternity will be featured by the appearance on the university grounds, of a six foot replica of the golden key of O. D. K. sometime early Thursday. At different times throughout the day names of the various pledges will be given out in some unreserved manner from the point of location of the key.

Students designated campus leaders by O. D. K. will not know definitely that they have received a pledge until the key discloses their names. This year the fraternity will select two faculty members and one honorary member besides the regular student pledges. At a dinner later in the week the formal ceremonies will be held.

The presentation of the leadership award to the high school basketball winner will take place after the final game of the tournament. This 12 inch silver cup will bear the inscription, "O. D. K. Cup, Awarded to the Most Outstanding Leader of the State High School Basketball Tournament, 1931." The winner's name will be engraved later.

Resume of Winter Athletic Season
Commends Rupp, Team for Work

Awarding of Letters Is Final Official Act of Department

By LAWRENCE CRUMP

Awarding of letters at the banquet given in honor of the University of Kentucky basketball squad was the official act which closed the fall and winter season of athletics at Kentucky.

Coch Rupp and his basketballers were feted last Monday night in recognition of their efforts during the past season. A thoroughly successful season that demonstrated the popularity of the coach, players and the system was celebrated with all the customary speeches.

Given little or no chance to produce a winning ball club at the start of the year Coach Rupp set to work with a few of his own ideas and one regular from last year to wind up with the best team in the South. His method of handling men in this era of slave-driving coaches was a large factor in the success of the Big Blue.

The will to win, the most important thing in basketball, which he instills in the team pulled the Cats through many tight places. Willingness to listen to sound advice and suggestions from his players and their trainer have all contributed to making Adolph Rupp one of the most popular coaches in Kentucky's history.

The skeptics who watched the entire Wildcat squad work out against Georgetown College in the season's opener returned in increasing numbers to pack the gymnasium during the remainder of the season and bring joy to the heart of "Daddy" Boles, guardian of the university's athletic shackles.

A short schedule made to suit an anticipated mediocre team worked out to the best advantage when it brought Kentucky to the tournament at the top of their form. The strong second half came back against Maryland in the final game of the tournament showed how well Rupp had conserved the energy of his team during the last few games of the regular playing season.

Outside the Conference Kentucky had little trouble in disposing of Georgetown, Berea, Marshall College of West Virginia and Chattanooga. In the conference the Cats were undefeated on their home floor but lost to Georgia at Georgia, Bowling Green.

Students Drink Oodles of "Coke"

After a careful investigation and many strenuous efforts which finally terminated at Quigley's Drug Store, at George Washington University, it was discovered that enormous quantities of coca-cola were being consumed by the student body of this grand old institution, and after diligent application and use of the slide rule the following facts were ascertained:

Three barrels of coca-cola per month are dispensed. Said barrels containing 19,986 ounces of coke are the equivalent of 39,936 glasses (my error—pink cups), which when mixed with ice and soda for serving contain 139,744 ounces of liquid, that being equal to 13,000 B. T. U's per cup. (British Thermal Units—consult Professor Benjamin Carpenter Cruickshanks, B. S. in M. E.). There are approximately 5,000 students consuming 31,948.8 ounces of that delicious beverage, often flavored with lemon, per month, this being equal to 415,334,400 B. T. U's. If this same amount was used in the gasoline tanks of G. W.'s sundry "puddie-jumpers" they would have motive power enough to resemble a herd of kangaroos.

In view of this enormous power that has been consumed per month by our student body the question that naturally arises in the mind of the writer is why the effect of said power was not more evident during our past mid-year—George Washington University, Hatchet.

TRACK SQUAD IS HOLDING FIRST PRACTICES

The Wildcat track squad, with the exception of a few men who are out for spring football practice, have started workouts on Stoll field. An ambitious schedule has been arranged for the Big Blue who won all but one of their dual meets last year.

Some of the leading candidates for the team have been working out daily on Stoll field for the past three weeks and a few of these were taken to the Cincinnati Indoor track meet held in Cincinnati last Saturday, March 7.

Co-captains, "Shipwreck" Kelly and Heber are among the Wildcats who were entered in the Cincinnati meet, both being registered for the 50-yard dash. Both Kelly and Heber have been timed in 5.2 in the 50 yard dash this spring, and Kelly had run the 300 yard dash in 34.8. In the quarter mile, Milliken, Parrant, Saunders and McCaughey have shown up well. All have run the quarter in 55 seconds, which is exceptionally good for this time of the season, considering the condition of the track.

Baker, O'Bryant and Farmer are out for the half mile. O'Bryant seems to be the best bet for the mile run. He has been entered in the half and mile runs at the Cincinnati meet. His best time is 4:34. There are only two men working out for the two mile run. They are Burress and Strub. Burress, a sophomore, promises to develop into a real distance runner this season. The following men have reported for work: Longacre, Gibson, Wetman, Williams, Shirley, Emmerick.

Baker, Tuttle, Epps, Hicks, McLane, Turley, Porter and Hubble. Within two weeks at least five men who are now out for spring football practice will put in their appearance, rounding the squad out to full strength. These boys include Skinner, Andrews, Seale, Cavana, and Foster.

Freshmen track candidates are to turn out in two weeks, according to M. E. Potter. Several men of varsity ability are known to be among the freshmen candidates and the freshmen are expected to have a powerful team this season.

The varsity schedule follows:
March 7—Cincinnati Indoor meet at Cincinnati.
April 11—Louisville at Louisville.
April 18—Vanderbilt at Lexington.
April 25—Tennessee at Lexington.
May 2—Sewanee at Sewanee.
May 9—Cincinnati at Lexington.
May 16—Southern Conference meet at Birmingham.

MARKSWOMAN

Mrs. Mary K. Platt, of Baltimore, Md., has been shooting only two years but recently, on an indoor range, turned in a score that was within three points out of a possible 250 of equally the world's record on a twenty-foot range. The record is held by Dr. I. R. Caulkins, of Springfield, Mass. Pistol shooting is the hobby of both Mr. and Mrs. Platt, and they spend most of their summer vacations at the National Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio.

Daughter: "You dear old dad!"
Sandy: "So never mind going to the dentist's now to have that tooth pulled—wait until you are married."

We thought we were about recovered so we ventured out to see "Reaching for the Moon" and immediately suffered a relapse. A combination of a poor picture and several freshmen or faculty members sat behind us and laughed uproariously at the crude stuff and failed to appreciate the few subtleties in the entire footage. "Not Exactly Gentlemen" was not exactly a good picture. Of course, the fact that "Maj" Wigglesworth (screen name, David Worth) was cast in the juvenile lead caused considerable comment. However, it must be said that not even the best actor in the business could have done anything with the insipid role assigned him. Buster Keaton's "Parlor, Bedroom, and Bath" will be held for the week and it deserves it. We got some genuine laughs from the picture which is one that almost everyone will enjoy.

During the filming of "Women of all Nations" on the Fox lot the other day, El Brendel was accidentally kicked in the eye by a chorus girl in one of the comedy scenes. Ever the trouper, Brendel had his part changed so as to call for a damaged optic and went on with the scene.

John Gilbert's newest opus is "Gentleman's Fate" which opens at the Strand Sunday. This Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer release is particularly significant in that it presents the final performance of the late Louis Wolheim. Anita Page and Leila Hyams are other members of the pretentious supporting cast. "Gentlemen's Fate" is an under-world yarn in which Gilbert enacts the role of a gentleman killer. The inside is that Metro is perturbed over Gilbert because of his failure to click in talking pictures. He continues to pull flap trade but not so much as formerly.

The prize laugh of the week was found in the State's marquee: "Lowell Sherman and Mary Astor in 'The Royal Bed'." Donald Henderson Clarke wrote a best-selling novel called "Millie." The radio picturization of the work will open at the Kentucky tomorrow. Helen Twelvrees, of the wistful expression, is cast in the title role and the cast includes Lilyan Tashman, Robert Ames, John Halliday, Joan Blondell, James Hall.

Our Hollywood correspondent informs us that Joan Crawford and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., are planning a vacation in Europe. They expect to leave in about six weeks to be gone two months. Few women ever irritate us but Winnie Lightner simply can't please us. Ever since her debut in "Gold-diggers of Broadway," we took a dislike to the lady and haven't recovered from it yet. It must be said, however, that she certainly works hard. Joe E. Brown is co-starred with the Lightner in "Sit Tight" which opens Sunday at the Ben All. This is a Warner Brothers picture directed by Lloyd Bacon with Claudia Dell, Paul Gregory, Lotti Loder, and Hobart Bosworth in the cast. Comedy is underlined as the chief attraction of "Sit Tight."

THE QUESTION OF SMOKING

Authorities have been most lenient this year on the matter of co-eds smoking. In response to the general desire to abolish old rules in the dormitories regarding smoking their stringency has been lessened, and a new freedom, in accordance with new customs, has been enjoyed. Giving way to the modern habits, people are no longer shocked to see women smoking; it is no longer a question of raised eyebrows. Understanding this, and the fact that many girls were allowed to smoke in their homes, university authorities acknowledged the need for new rules.

Nevertheless, they have not been rewarded with a return courtesy of observance of those few rules regarding smoking now in effect. Their violation has become a problem which is annoying to those who must cope with it. "Give them an inch and they take a mile," is the feeling they naturally have after seeing flagrant misuse of the privileges co-eds have been allowed thus far. Necessarily the line must be drawn somewhere, and definitely at that.

On the other hand, the women students request the privilege of giving their side of the matter. Smoking in such a place as the University Commons should not be forbidden them, they claim in what seems justified terms, for the privilege of smoking at meals is not denied to men. Surely they have equal rights to indulge in such diversion. They also feel that the establishment of a smoking room on the campus would prove a solution of this problem. This accommodation is made even in girls' schools in this modern day, and with the spread and present popularity of smoking, co-eds at the university are asking for some similar recognition.

Centralization of smoking on the campus might well prove an aid in handling the situation on the part of the authorities, and would certainly be a welcome step to many women attending the university who wish to comply with rules, yet are unwilling to give up smoking on the campus.

AN EXPLANATION

Attention has been called to the management of The Kernel that both sides of the situation were not taken into consideration in the editorial, "A Promise," which appeared in its columns a week ago.

The Kernel which is a student newspaper, with a policy of expression for student opinion, having unwittingly misrepresented the facts, we take this method of retracting the statements under discussion.

WHY NOT A RIFLE RANGE?

Kentucky has been fortunate during the past two years in having teams in the various forms of intercollegiate competition which have won both, for, themselves and their university southern and national recognition. The student body and university officials have been profuse in their expressions of praise. Unfortunately, however, one team which has distinguished itself has been given only praise, and has not had the full cooperation it has needed to enable it to carry on the splendid work it has started. This is the rifle team.

Probably no organization has been forced to continue its activities under more unfavorable conditions than has that group which is sponsoring this most ancient of sports. Inadequate facilities—poor lighting—cramped quarters—all have entered into making what might develop into one of the more popular sports a pastime bordering on drudgery. When the call for rifle team candidates was issued this year more than one hundred students reported to military officials. All of these men were actively interested in this form of athletics, and deserved the privilege of continuing it. Under present conditions, however, it was impossible to care for more than a squad of about thirty men, and as a result some seventy men were deprived of this privilege.

The Kernel realizes that the university is handicapped in its building program by curtailed money appropriations. On the other hand, The Kernel believes that in view of existing conditions the need for a rifle range is one of the foremost problems facing the building commission. Temporary measures are all that can be hoped for at present, especially in view of Doctor McVey's recommendation for a new armory in the future. It should not require an expenditure of a great sum of money to extend the present drill hall to give more space, and to excavate beneath the building for a suitable range. Here might be had more space—more facilities—for proper training of a team, and here at all hours interested students could practice without interruption from military classes and other activities.

Since the installation of Pershing Rifles on the campus added impetus has been given to the move for such improvements. Scores of students who wish to avail themselves of such opportunities as may be offered by rifle training are clamoring for the privilege of having such supervision. Each year men selected from various universities and from army circles compete with representatives of foreign countries for the international rifle team championship, a title which the United States now holds, having won the meet held last year at Switzerland. The Kernel feels that unless some means is provided for furthering the talents of our own students along this line, an injustice is being permitted to exist which might at a comparatively small outlay of money, be removed.

A PLAN

The advantage of the radio programs which are being broadcast by the university were set out in an editorial appearing in a recent edition of The Kernel. Enumerating these, they are: service to the people of the state; service to Lexington, as this is the only broadcasting station in the city; service to the university; publicity for the university, and a new and stronger link between the state and the university.

The present location of these studios is in the music building, which is not properly constructed for broadcasting; the walls are thin, the acoustics are far from ideal, and the arrangement of the rooms is not conducive to the best results in radio programs. Radio is a keen reproducer of accurate sounds, but deviations from ideal tone quality seem to be accentuated by it. Proper acoustics can prevent outside interference from having undue influence on tone quality. Tones of voices and instruments are entirely different when they are used in a room which is properly constructed to bring out their best qualities. Music hall does not do this.

In accordance with the ever increasing radio consciousness of people more completely equipped and better situated rooms are essential to the further development of radio in the university. The programs which the university is sponsoring are increasingly important for they are Lexington's and the university's only representative on the air. Due to this the university should take advantage of the opportunity and become Lexington's radio center. If provisions were made for better location it should be but a short period of time before the university station should have its own station rights and cease to act as subsidiary to Louisville.

There is an ideal location on this campus for a radio station. Plans have been drawn up for the construction of such clearly showing the possibilities of such a station. The building in which it would be located is Memorial hall. The basement of this building would have to be enlarged and deepened; plans show that this could be easily accomplished. The location would be ideal for broadcasting rooms. Furthermore, the construction of such space would solve three major problems which are confronting the music department at present. A music hall would be the central room, this hall would be used by the university chorus and bands as a practice room. The band would have proper store room for its instruments, the music building would have the room which it now needs and conditions promoted by this change would be ideal for all parties concerned. Then, the radio rooms would have the proper acoustics and the ideal location for broadcasting. In other words the following problems would be solved: poor radio broadcast facilities; lack of space for music department building, and provision of a practical location for the university choruses and the band.

The Kernel is heartily in favor of the execution of the plans for these rooms in the near future for we think that the advantages and the opportunities which such a location would offer are too valuable to be allowed to remain latent.

FREE ADVERTISING

Attention has been called to the school of crime which is being conducted in Illinois. Further notice has been taken of the fact that governmental and city officials of certain crime centers have publicly denounced periodicals publishing crime news, as they are setting bad examples for the people. We are driven to wonder why, contrary to their pronounced policies they have allowed "The School of Crime" to be "played up" in newspapers, to be propounded in magazines, to be featured before the people. Yet we wonder why crime is so prevalent! There is no surer way to sell anything than by advertising it and that is what is being done to crime today. The front pages of every paper are covered with sensational trials, murders, robberies, and raids. It is in this manner that the papers have the power to do evil as well as good. Liquor trade and traffic is illegal, yet it has received even more than its due amount of publicity until the lure, the adventure and the sheer daring of such have been painted in an appealing picture and put before the people. It is a fact that all people are romanticists, hence we have the gentlemen bootleggers, drawn into it by the appeal of their romantic dreams. Hence we also have the tolerance of youth for such people. Youth is essentially daring and romantic and instead of properly directed publicity, they too have been drawn to adventure.

Recently the youth of the nation has had college raids printed for it to read; madcap ecologists caught with liquor in their possession. Fascinating, isn't it, to think of gay collegians doing as novels have them doing. Featuring youth, featuring daring, featuring it in such a way that the entire college world is saying "tough luck," and that the younger people are saying "gosh, but college must be almost as exciting as a night club."

We wish to say that prohibition is going to meet its Waterloo in the attitude of these young people unless some of the allure is taken from the press stories, or unless they cease to receive front page publicity. Liquor, like crime, is receiving too much free advertising. Liquor linked with college and featured with it will be the ruin of the next college generation, if it is not the ruin of this one. It does not seem right to allow such publicity to continue, when, judging from precedence, it can have such a detrimental effect on the youth of today. We wish that disseminators of such free advertising would remember that we, even though we are the younger generation today, are the citizens of tomorrow.

MAY WE INTRODUCE...

Margaret Cundiff
Bumming around the journalism department one day, I saw a little girl who seemed blue. Sympathy moved me—who was the little girl with the 'dret,' big, sad look? Cautiously, I edged nearer to where she stood.

"Why are you so sad?" I asked. She answered me rather vaguely, something about her love—McCormick—gone away. I couldn't gather what she meant, so I ventured.

"Did you say John McCormick?" I thought maybe she was musically inclined.

"No," she answered, giving me a withering look, "Louis. And not a singer—a lawyer."

That reminded me what my business was, so I attended to it. "Maybe if you would tell me about yourself, you would forget your troubles for a time."

"What would you like to know?" she asked.

"Everything about yourself," I replied, pulling out my notebook.

"In case you wonder," she said, "I am Margaret Cundiff."

Heaven help a struggling journalist. How could I have known that she was the present associate editor of the Kernel and one who had been editor-in-chief during the summers of '29 and '30? After that I assumed a very business-like attitude.

"Have you always gone to school here?" I asked.

"Yes," she said, "I entered from Hamilton."

"What were your activities there?" I asked.

"I was representative of the town students on W. S. G. A., vice president of the junior class, a member of Sigma Gamma, scholastic sorority, and president of Alpha Delta Sigma, social sorority."

"What are your activities at the university?" I asked.

"I am a member of Mortar Board, Theta Sigma Phi, president of Chi Delta Phi and Alpha Gamma Delta, member of S. K. Y. Strollers, secretary of the executive board of Guignol Players, treasurer of W. A. C. J. member of the Pan-Hellenic council, representative of the town students on W. S. G. A. for '30-'31, vice president of the junior class '29-'30, and vice president of the senior class '30-'31."

What a true journalist she was, telling me everything I wanted to know so that I wouldn't have to beg for every word. "Sap," I thought, "and you were offering her sympathy." This, however, was how real admiration for one who could so quietly go her own way, gaining so many honors and friends. As she turned to leave me I felt that I was the one who needed sympathy.

County Agriculture Agents Hold Meeting

Group Convenes at University Experiment Station Thursday

The regular monthly meeting of the county agriculture agents was held at the university experiment station Thursday.

The meeting was opened with a talk on "Increased Production of Vegetables for Home Use," by A. J. Olney. In his talk Mr. Olney stressed the fact that an increased production of vegetables for home use was more necessary than ever due to the drought of this year.

E. J. Kilpatrick spoke on the plans for the live-at-home program, and stressed the raising of more food at home. L. J. Horlacher, assistant dean of the Agriculture college at the university, gave a talk, "The Production of Quality Spring Lambs," in which he stressed the necessity of good feeding.

James Wall, prominent Fayette county farmer, explained what the meat buyers would look for in lambs this year. H. B. Price, head of the department of markets and rural finance, then discussed the present status of the Kentucky Wool Pool.

INSTRUCTORS ATTEND MEET

Miss Rebecca Averill, and Mr. W. H. Hansen, of the department of physical education, left yesterday for Louisville, where they will attend the annual meeting of the Southern District Physical Education Association. Miss Averill will also attend the luncheon meeting of the state committee of the woman's division of the National Amateur Athletic Federation, of which she is chairman.

Contest Announced For Short Stories, Jokes and Cartoons

In the last issue of the Kernel, it was announced that a new Street and Smith publication, "College Stories," will conduct a column of interesting happenings at various colleges and universities of the country, and that in the same magazine there will be monthly contests for joke and short story writers and for cartoonists. The story failed to state, however, that all communications should be addressed to Street and Smith Publications, at Seventh avenue, and Fifteenth street, New York.

Professor Farquhar, of the English department, has asked that the Kernel publish the notice, in order that capable students may have an opportunity to earn extra money while attending school.

The award for the winner of the joke contest will be $10; for all other jokes which are printed, the company will pay $2 each. In the art contest, the winner will receive $15, and $5 each will be given for others which are considered worthy of publication. The winner of the short story contest will receive $100. These contests are for undergraduates only.

PEPPY'S DIARY

Tuesday: Did arise shortly before noon and did ponder deeply as to why I did find such delight in slumber. Did leisurely dress and did lunch with the dear sisters who gabbled about nothing. In the afternoon did stroll to the university where I did see CHRIS JOHNSON who did drive furiously past and KAY KENNEDY with a determined look and I did feel glad that she is not my BIG SISTER, and HARRY LAIR and BEN CROSBY who did seem much engrossed each with the other and HARRY EDWARDS. Later to the evil place were WALTER JONES did act very young, and HENRIETTA WHITTAKER did seem exulting over her election and VIRGINIA DOUGHERTY did smile at the many boys as usual. In the evening to my sorority house where ROBERT PHILLIPS did come and I did ponder on the MEASLES sign on the FFI DELT house. Later did see the fair GILBOY who did seem happy for some reason other than that she did pledge KAPPA.

Wednesday: Did arise early and did feel too sleepy to reply to the absurd questionings of the sisters regarding my date of last night who was not what a SIGMA CHI should be. Did attend my two classes and did hear HUGH JACKSON who did argue with the prof and EMILY HARDIN and JACK WOOLUM and SARAH McCAMPBELL who did seem quite bored with the whole proceeding. Later for a WALK with a PI KAP and did wonder why he did seem to think himself a suitable topic of conversation. We

PAGING ELMER SULZER, PLEASE!

Spirit and pep by University of Kentucky students have been lacking in past years. This year at football and basketball games, their attitude was highly commendable and praiseworthy. Through the efforts of Sukey and Slade Carr, a staff of cheerleaders was organized, which functioned well at games.

At football contests, the band was present with a full attendance. At basketball contests, a fragment of the band played. When the Vanderbilt basketball team played here, an ensemble, composed of the basketball, concert and co-ed bands entertained the fans.

Through the efforts of The Kernel, a mammoth homecoming was planned for the greatest basketball team in the South, who were to come back one hundred per cent present, and not as a fragment of the team that left the Wednesday night previous.

The band WAS there at the station, and immediately following the arrival of the team, the band was dismissed and the proposed tribute and parade were abandoned. None were garbed in uniform, no formal preparation was made to honor the occasion as it should be done.

We understand that absence from band practice is made up by playing at such gatherings and affairs.

Traffic officers graciously gave their time and efforts to lead the line of march. This line of march was to lead through the business district then to the Euclid avenue gymnasium. Students went to extra trouble to decorate cars and make the reception a royal one for the conquering heroes, who were coming back to old Kentucky.

A pep meeting in the gymnasium was substituted for the proposed tribute and parade. In an editorial entitled A PROMISE under date of March 6 in The Kernel, a regret was expressed by this newspaper over the unfortunate affair. It drew the ire and wrath of the band's leader.

We believe justified criticism should not draw the ire of gentlemen. And we believe that no retraction for this editorial is needed. We should have given it none. The editor of The Kernel, a woman, was required to read three times an apology to the band for the editorial she had written, which does not strike Kentucky gentlemen as exactly the sort of chivalry that should be shown to a woman.

This is what the bandmaster at the university did to the editor-in-chief of this paper. We know our band is the best in the South. It consists of students, for students, and should serve their interests and needs. We do hereby take off our hat to that superb organization of which all Kentuckians are proud.

To the bandleader of the University of Kentucky band, we say, YOU PROMISED, and we further state, that we believe you owe an apology to the women editors of this newspaper. Gentlemen generally do apologize under such circumstances.

did discuss HUGH NORMANT and did see him shortly after. Did see CHESTER JOLLY, RED REYNOLDS, FLOPPY FORQUER, and HILDA COOPER with the inevitable EARL KING and did smile at the pin of SIGMA NU. In the evening to a show of moving pictures where CAROLYN RAY did seem to enjoy a gentleman with whom I am unacquainted. Very late to bed.

Thursday: During the morning to the university where CHUCK RICE and ELEANOR SWARENGEN did dance across the campus like CHILDRIN. Did see PAUL PENNY and did wonder why he no longer courts the ALPHA GAMES with the old ardor and WINSTON ARDERY with his much beloved JANE PAYNTER, and LOIS PURCELL and COLEMAN SMITH and JIMMIE SHROPSHIRE who did look still worried over the delay which did accompany the publication of the KERNEL Tuesday and did sympathize with them and MILDRED GREENE. After a stupid afternoon to home and to bed.

Kappa Kappa Gamma won the annual baseball tournament at the University of Michigan. The Kappas won by defeating Z. T. A. in one of the most contested games of the season.

Coach M. E. Potter Issues First Call for Freshman Track

Coach M. E. Potter has issued a call for freshman track candidates, all candidates are expected to answer the call Monday afternoon March 16 at 4 o'clock.

The prospects for an excellent freshman track team at the university this season are the best in years. Several prep school hurdlers are expected to report. A crack quarter-miler is on hand and is sure to make things hard for all of the Kitten's opponents.

Several freshmen have been training all winter for the distance events. From the quarter-mile up to the two mile run the Kittens are strong.

Several melographic meets with Southern Conference schools have been tentatively arranged. Also meets will probably be arranged with several scholastic and freshman track teams in the state.

All freshmen are urged by Coach Potter to come out. No out will be made in the squad. All men have an equal chance to make good. Constant attendance is the only requirement necessary.

Dr. Henry Beaumont Speaks on Holland

A talk on Holland by Dr. Henry Beaumont was the chief feature of the March meeting of the History club, which was held on March 5 in the Education building. Doctor Beaumont, who spent 21 years in Holland, described the psychology of the Dutch mind, the nature of the country and the customs of the people.

The next meeting of the club will not be held on the first Thursday afternoon in April as has been the custom, but due to the spring holidays, the meeting will be held in April 9.

DISCUSSION HELD

A joint discussion group is being held by the Y. M. and Y. W. O. A., each Monday night, 7:15 o'clock in Patterson hall. Student problems on the campus are discussed. An invitation is extended to any student on the campus who is interested in the subjects of the discussions.

Again people talk excitedly of "Burning Air"

When a public display of gas lighting was given in London in 1802 to celebrate the Peace of Amiens, people talked excitedly of burning air. Napoleon called it a grand folly, and Sir Walter Scott wrote that the world was going mad.

Thus was ushered in the era of gas illumination. It lasted for 75 years. Then electricity stole the field and the gas giant dozed through a quarter century, used chiefly for kitchen cookery.

Now it reawakens in a changed world, to new possibilities, greater opportunities. Eighty thousand miles of pipe lines already laid, extensively equipped with Crane valves and fittings, prove that the old problem of transportation is solved. Pipe lines crisscrossing the country as numerous as electric power ones are freely predicted.

What has brought this second greater gas era? The answer is: piping materials. Thanks to these, gas men can say for the first time that they are able to pipe gas in enormous quantities from Amarillo gas fields to Chicago, from isolated natural gas fields to users everywhere.

No matter what field of engineering you take up on graduation, you will find its future and its growth interwoven with the development of piping materials. And, as in the past this development has, time after time, been first reflected in the complete Crane line, it will pay you to keep in touch with Crane research and Crane materials.

THE GIRL WITH A ROSE

Hearstetia Sherwood

The typically Southern Sherwood is chosen as our Rose Girl this week because she always has at least four boys in love with her; because she not only knows what it is all about but why it is that way; because she is the main reason that the Alpha Gammas are still regarded as a good sorority; because she does not talk about people too much; because she is always dressed as if she were going to be married—not extravagantly, tastefully; because, although she is not sentimental, boys think she is, which is far better; because she is not taller than we are; because she is a good sport; because she employs a finesse that is seldom achieved by women; because she can be courteous when most etes would rage; because she is beautiful.

Kappas Like to Dance

We suppose that almost everyone has heard of the four Kappas who motored to the Green Lantern—minus dates—for a dance. We are told that the young ladies merely drove up and sat in the brown roadster and smiled. Presently, page Mr. Ripley, they had dates.

Dear Old Ladies and the Flames

Line of the week to an unknown blonde—"That band plays 'Sweet and Hot' like a musical interpretation of an old ladies' home burning down."

Ordinary Occurrences

It occurs to us that Francis Craig's piano presentation of his own hauntingly beautiful "Red Rose" is our favorite composition... that nothing can make one feel lonelier than an empty house and snow drifting down... that the more persons one tries to know the less one is likely to be oneself... that if we have too many friends there will be nothing left to pass-quade... that, contrary to current gossip, we were not bitten by a mad dog in 1927... that the brilliant red measles signs are more striking than ever this season... that the reason we make this column so long is that the reporters work only on Monday and Thursday afternoons and something has to be set... that we estimate our loss of brain cells at 1,983 annually.

Winchell and Us

Our friend Walter says that he is more than murdered by the bird who stops him to say, "I had a funny story for your column but I have forgotten had it ends." Hadn't we mentioned it?

We Worry

Sometimes we cannot go to sleep at night because we worry so much about how some of our eds and etes get over. Someone called them grapes. They could not be.

Smart Strollers

The Strollers have decided that they do not have enough metal men to give the prize they announced for the best play written by a student at the university. They believe, we hear, that it will be much more profitable to capitalize on Tom Riley in a sort of master of ceremonies affair.

When a Lady Falls

One of our alumni tells us that he saw a Kappa fall down the post office steps one day and immediately rushed to her assistance. He found that she had broken her leg and asked helpfully, "I'd better get you to a hospital, hadn't I?" "I'm sorry," she told him zerkally, "but I've never met you."

Come on Cops

Members of the various fraternities were hopeful of an interesting afternoon when they heard recently that their houses were to be raided. All the old time bright cracks were polished up for use on the Men of Law and Order but they did not appear. Nothing ever happens.

when Bill Strickland did a little plain and fancy goal shooting during the closing minutes of the game.

Clemson's Tigers resented an earlier defeat at the hands of Kentucky gave the calamity howlers exercise by trouncing the Cats for their second successive defeat. In the last game of the southern trip the Ruppmen came back to defeat Georgia Tech for the second time and then returned to Lexington to defeat Vanderbilt, also for the second time.

Entering the tournament at Atlanta in the role of "dark horse" number one, the Big Blue defeated North Carolina State, Duke, and Florida in the order named only to lose a heart breaker to Berger and his cohorts in the finale with Maryland. One of the most popular teams in the tournament, Kentucky placed four out of five men on the Associated Press all-Southern for 1931 including Captain Carey Spicer, Louis McGinnis, and co-captains elect George Yates and Jake Bronston.

Too much credit can not be given to George Yates for his fine effort to see the tournament through in spite of heavy fever which kept him in bed during the time he was not actually on the playing floor. George returned to Lexington some 20 pounds lighter but the unanimous choice of the critics for all-Southern center.

It is to be regretted that Spicer and McGinnis, high scorers of the tournament have played their last game for Kentucky. Their graduation leaves a large gap to be filled before the 'Cats can hope to duplicate the performance of 1930-31 team.

Finishing the year with 15 wins out of 18 starts is a fine record for any basketball team and the final game with Maryland which cost Kentucky the championship reflected as much credit to Kentucky as it did to the Old Liners. Their trophy is simply a tribute to Berger, their great guard who never quit.

What the NEW HUMIDOR PACK means to Camel Smokers *

COMPARE a package of Camels with any other cigarette and note the difference in the technique of packing.

Note that Camels are completely enclosed in an outer transparent cover of moisture-proof cellophane and sealed air-tight at every point.

We call this outer shell the Humidor Pack. It differs from the ordinary cellophane pack and while it is egg-shell thin, it means a lot in terms of cigarette enjoyment.

It means, for instance, that evaporation is checkmated and that Salt Lake City can now have as good Camels as Winston-Salem.

While Camels are made of a blend of the choicest Turkish and mellowest domestic tobaccos, it is highly important, if you are to get full benefit of this quality, that these cigarettes come to you with their natural moisture content still intact.

The Humidor Pack insures that. It prevents the fine tobaccos of Camels from drying out and losing any of their delightful flavor.

Aside from cheap tobacco, two factors in a cigarette can mar the smoker's pleasure:

Fine particles of peppery dust if left in the tobacco by inefficient cleaning methods sting and irritate delicate throat membrane.

Dry tobacco, robbed of its natural moisture by scorching or by evaporation gives off a hot smoke that burns the throat with every inhalation.

We take every precaution against these factors here at Winston-Salem.

A special vacuum cleaning apparatus removes dust and now the new Humidor Pack prevents dryness.

Check the difference yourself It is a very simple matter to check the difference between Humidor Packed

Camels and other ordinary dry cigarettes.

First of all you can feel the difference as you roll the cigarettes between your fingers. Camels are full-bodied and pliable. A dry cigarette crumbles under pressure and sheds tobacco.

If you will hold a cigarette to each ear and roll them with your fingers you can actually hear the difference.

The real test of course is to smoke them. And here's where the new Humidor Pack proves a real blessing to the smoker.

As you inhale the cool, fragrant smoke from a Camel you get all the mildness and magic of the fine tobaccos of which it is blended.

But when you draw in the hot smoke from a dried cigarette see how flat and brackish it is by comparison and how harsh it is to your throat.

If you are a regular Camel smoker you have already noticed what proper condition of the cigarette means.

But if you haven't tried Camels in the new Humidor Pack you have a new adventure with Lady Nicotine in store.

Switch your affections for just one day, then go back to your old love tomorrow if you can.
